MEMORANDUM FOR: Records Administration Officer

SUBJECT : Paperwork Management Awards Banquet

1. As we arranged over the telephone, I am returning for your action the announcements of the Federal Paperwork Management Awards Banquet and, in addition, there are attached the announcements which came to the Office of Personnel from the Administrative Management Society. I suggest that you distribute these to the people who would be interested who are, no doubt, better known by you than by people in Personnel.

2. Please make whatever arrangements seem necessary with the Office of Personnel for the sale of tickets, reserving tables, etc.

3. The Agency distributed invitations for nominations for this award some time ago but we had no nominees. This as I said on the phone does not indicate a lack of interest. I think from what you said it may have resulted from a misunderstanding as to the criteria for nominations. I will appreciate a reading on those who are granted the award which might help us in our action if we are invited to make a nomination next year.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Officer to the Deputy Director for Support
SUBJECT : Paperwork Management Awards Banquet

1. The attached 24 announcements of the Federal Paperwork Management Awards Banquet came to me from General Services Administration.

2. The announcement indicates that tickets were sent to Agency Personnel Offices. If they have been received, do you know what arrangements will be made for their sale?

3. Dr. Everett Alldredge, Assistant Archivist for Records Management, GSA, has asked me and all Agency Records Management Officers to do what we can to publicize this excellent program and to try to guarantee at least one table of ten. I am quite interested in doing all I can, but since all programs of this type are under the jurisdiction of the Office of Personnel, I hesitate to do anything until I know the official position the agency has taken. Also, knowledge of whether the agency has participated in the program by nominating an employee will be helpful in determining interest in attending the banquet.

Dear Mr. Cavanaugh:

Thank you for your recent letter to the Director of Central Intelligence describing the new AMS Paperwork Management Award program and inviting our Agency to name a candidate for this Award.

We appreciate your invitation but have decided not to make a nomination for this Award this year. We hope that we will be in a position to participate in this worthwhile program at some future time.

We are very interested in all endeavors to improve administration in the Federal Government and wish to take this opportunity to express appreciation to the Officers and the Directors of the Society for their efforts to promote effective management of paperwork in the public service.

Sincerely,

STAT The attached letter solicits the nomination of an Agency employee for a newly established award for "outstanding leadership and professional excellence in promoting effective management of paperwork in the Federal Government." From the descriptive material attached to the letter, it seems Mr. Cavanaugh is talking about senior executives who direct and manage programs as opposed to Records Management Officers on Mr. staff or assigned throughout the Agency. Since we have until 1 July 1965 to submit a nomination, could you find out a little more about this, particularly the anticipated general level of the nominees and then take the necessary action. However, in order to avoid a last minute rush, it is requested that you complete the action and submit a response to DD/S not later than 1 June 1965.

SOCIETY

April 23, 1965

Honorable John A. McCone
Director, Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D. C. 20505

Dear Mr. McCone:

AMS PAPERWORK MANAGEMENT AWARD

I am delighted to announce on behalf of our Officers and Directors that the Administrative Management Society will, commencing in the early Fall of 1965 the first of an annual series of Awards recognizing leadership and professional excellence in promoting effective management of paperwork in the Federal Government. You are most cordially invited to submit a nomination of an employee in your Agency. Details are in the attached documents.

In recent correspondence concerning this award, Mr. John W. Macy, Jr., Chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, said, "...I will look forward, personally, with a great deal of interest to a successful launching of the endeavor. We are gratified with the interest displayed by the Administrative Management Society in honoring Federal achievement in this important field."

The Administrative Management Society believes that this Award program will focus attention on one of the less heralded but more important aspects of the development of effective Government administration. It is our sincere hope that you will encourage the participation of your Agency.

We are forwarding under separate cover posters announcing the program which may be placed on employee information bulletin boards.

We would be pleased to answer any questions you may have concerning the Award.
